OSHA Announces Major Changes in Injury and Illness Reporting and Recording Requirements By Gary Hanson, President American Safety & Health Management Consultants, Inc.

On September 11, 2014 Dr. David Michaels, assistant Secretary of Labor for OSHA, announced the OSHA Final Rule expanding requirements for employers to notify OSHA when a worker is “Killed on the job, or suffers a work related hospitalization, amputation or loss of an eye.” The new rules will go into effect for employees covered under Federal OSHA on January 1, 2015.

Dr. Michaels advised that currently OSHA receives little information about serious nonfatal injuries. The new rule is intended to help OSHA to better allocate agency resources and assess the adequacy of current OSHA standards. It will also allow OSHA to better target employers and industries that need assistance.

All employers covered by the Occupational Safety & Health Act, even those who are exempt from maintaining injury and illness records, are required to comply with OSHA’s new severe injury & illness reporting requirements. The new rule maintains the exemption for any employer with 10 or fewer employees, regardless of their industry classification from the requirement to routinely keep records of worker injuries and illness.

The new rule will require all employers even those who were exempt, either by size or industry to report the following:

All work related fatalities that occurred within 30 days of a work related incident. These must be reported within 8 hrs.

- All work related inpatient hospitalizations of one or more employees who are admitted for inpatient care to a hospital or clinic. There is an exception for employees who are admitted for diagnostic testing or observation only.
- All work related amputations
- All work related losses of an eye

These must be reported to OSHA within 24 hrs. of an employer learning of it. Employers can either report directly to their nearest OSHA Area Office by telephone or to the OSHA Hotline at 1-800-321-6742 (OSHA). Also employers will have to report an inpatient hospitalization due to a heart attack if it was the result of a work related incident.

OSHA is also currently developing a new means of reporting events electronically. This information will be available on the OSHA web site. www.osha.gov

When reporting an above related incident employers will be required to provide the following information:

- Establishment name
- Location of work related incident
- Time of work related incident
- Type of incident
- Number of employees
- Name of employees
- Contact person and telephone number.
- Brief description of the work related incident.

Employers will not have to report an event if it:

- Resulted from a motor vehicle accident on a public street
- Occurred on a commercial or public transportation system
- Occurred more than 30 days after the work related incident – in case of a fatality or more than 24 hours after a work-related incident in the case of an inpatient hospitalization, amputation or loss of an eye.

According to Dr. Michaels the new reports will all be public on the OSHA website. “Since no employer wants their workplace to be known as an unsafe place we believe that the possibility of public reporting of serious injuries will encourage – or in the behavioral economics term “nudge” employers to take steps to prevent injuries so they are not seen as unsafe places to work.” He also stated that the new reporting system will benefit all employers and workers and help continue to lower injury rates.

Please update your reporting procedures. Advise anyone handling these procedures to make sure they understand the new requirements in detail.

If you need any assistance with your safety program or have any safety related concerns, please call me at either 1-330-854-4577 (Office) or 1-330-495-3437 (Cell)

OSHA FactSheet

Updates to OSHA's Recordkeeping Rule: Reporting Fatalities and Severe Injuries

OSHA's updated recordkeeping rule expands the list of severe injuries that all employers must report to OSHA. Establishments located in states under Federal OSHA jurisdiction must begin to comply with the new requirements on January 1, 2015. Establishments located in states that operate their own safety and health programs should check with their state plan for the implementation date of the new requirements.

What am I required to report under the new rule?

Previously, employers had to report the following to OSHA:

All work-related fatalities—Work-related hospitalizations of three or more employees

Starting in 2015, employers will have to report the following to OSHA:

All work-related fatalities— All work-related inpatient hospitalizations of one or more employees—All work-related amputations—All work-related losses of an eye

Who is covered under the new rule?

All employers under OSHA jurisdiction must report all work-related fatalities, hospitalizations, amputations and losses of an eye to OSHA, even employers who are exempt from routinely keeping OSHA injury and illness records due to company size or industry.

An amputation is defined as the traumatic loss of a limb or other external body part. Amputations include a part, such as a limb or appendage, that has been severed, cut off, amputated (either completely or partially); fingertip amputations with or without bone loss; medical amputations resulting from irreparable damage; and amputations of body parts that have since been reattached.

How soon must I report a fatality or severe injury or illness?

Employers must report work-related fatalities within 8 hours of finding out about them. Employers only have to report fatalities that occurred within 30 days of a work-related incident.

For any inpatient hospitalization, amputation, or eye loss employers must report the incident within 24 hours of learning about it. Employers only have to report an inpatient hospitalization, amputation or loss of an eye that occurs within 24 hours of a work-related incident.

How do I report an event to OSHA?

Employers have three options for reporting the event:

By telephone to the nearest OSHA Area Office during normal business hours.—By telephone to the 24-hour OSHA hotline at 1-800-321-OSHA (6742).—OSHA is developing a new means of reporting events electronically, which will be available soon at www.osha.gov.

What information do I need to report?

For any fatality that occurs within 30 days of a work-related incident, employers must report the event within 8 hours of finding out about it.

For any inpatient hospitalization, amputation, or eye loss that occurs within 24 hours of a work-related incident, employers must report the event within 24 hours of learning about it.

Employers reporting a fatality, inpatient hospitalization, amputation or loss of an eye to OSHA must report the following information:

Establishment name—Location of the work-related incident—Time of the work-related incident—Type of reportable event (i.e., fatality, inpatient hospitalization, amputation or loss of an eye) - Number of employees who suffered the event—Names of the employees who suffered the event—Contact person and his or her phone number—Brief description of the work-related incident

Employers do not have to report an event if it:

Resulted from a motor vehicle accident on a public street or highway. Employers must report the event if it happened in a construction work zone.—Occurred on a commercial or public transportation system (airplane, subway, bus, ferry, streetcar, light rail, train).—Occurred more than 30 days after the work-related incident in the case of a fatality or more than 24 hours after the work-related incident in the case of an inpatient hospitalization, amputation, or loss of an eye.

Employers do not have to report an inpatient hospitalization if it was for diagnostic testing or observation only. An inpatient hospitalization is defined as a formal admission to the inpatient service of a hospital or clinic for care or treatment. Employers do have to report an inpatient hospitalization due to a heart attack, if the heart attack resulted from a work-related incident.
